Currency

🌐 USDCNY: The CNY depreciated by 0.7% against the USD in December, driven by a stronger dollar. The Dollar Index rose 2.6% to 108.5 following Trump's win, which raised concerns about inflation, higher tariffs, and increased fiscal spending.

🌐 USDJPY: The JPY depreciated by 5.0% in December. The yen weakened due to reduced BOJ rate hike speculation, higher prices, and uncertainty over the incoming Trump administration's tariff policies.

🌐 USDMYR: The MYR declined by 0.6% in December due to a stronger dollar.

Market Outlook

- Global equities rebounded strongly in 2023 and 2024 following the 2022 correction due to the Ukraine-Russia war. With Trump back in office, his policies, including tax cuts, deregulation, and protectionism, are expected to benefit U.S. equities. While China may face challenges from increased tariffs, the overall impact on the market will depend on how swiftly regulators adapt their policies to ensure economic stability. Additionally, with the U.S. dollar expected to remain firm, fund flows are likely to favor the U.S., which may pressure regional currencies and impact market performance. Domestic-oriented economies such as India may fare better in this environment. Separately, Malaysia stands to gain from trade diversification, leveraging its strategic location, supply chain ecosystem, and skilled labor. While we remain cautiously optimistic about global equities, we believe that geopolitical tensions and protectionist trade policies could present risks to this outlook. As global markets grapple with heightened uncertainty, we emphasize the importance of diversification and a focus on quality amid volatility.
- Locally, the Malaysian market has seen strong performance in 2024, driven by political stability, effective policy execution, and reflationary impacts from a stronger ringgit. Thematic plays, such as data centers, excitement around Johor, and tourism, have also contributed. Given the expected volatility with Trump taking office in January 2025, we will take a more strategic and cautious approach to stock and sector selection. We maintain strong investments in the technology and industrial sectors, as the US's plans to raise tariffs on a wide range of Chinese imports, including semiconductors, batteries, solar cells and critical minerals, are expected to benefit Malaysia as multinational companies seek alternative investment destinations. Furthermore, the strengthening of USD is anticipated to positively impact sector earnings. Simultaneously, we are adopting a more agile investment approach, gradually increasing exposure to defensive sectors such as consumer goods and healthcare.

YTD Review – Conventional

- Top performer: Kenanga Growth – The fund's YTD strong performance is attributed to overweight positions in Construction, Healthcare and Financial sectors.
- Worst performer: Manulife Investment Asia-Pacific REIT – YTD underperformance was due to investors reassessing their aggressive bets on the timing and magnitude of potential US rate cuts in 2024 while HK/China property sector may take longer than expected to recover.
